Martinsville-Scary! Breathtaking! Exciting! It's the only way to describe South Central Indiana

REMC's first ever Haunted House that will be open one night only on Tuesday, October 31st, Halloween night. The SCI employees will celebrate Halloween with tricks and treats as the basement of their facility is transformed into a Halloween Haunted House; aptly named the Dreaded Dungeon of Doom!

Scary costumed characters will be positioned in theme rooms throughout the dungeon.

Event organizers say the haunted house is not for the faint of heart. Both 'friendly' and 'frightening' hours will be recognized during the event, according to Jean van Biezen, Communication Director for South Central Indiana REMC. "The only difference is we will have the lights on during the 'friendly' hours so those who scare easy are not as frightened," stated van Biezen. "The event is Free and open to all," explains van Biezen, "but it might be a bit too scary for the very young kids."

"There will be a series of scary scenes including a mad scientist laboratory, rats, witches, ghosts, goblins and more," stated Troy Martin, Dispatcher for SCI REMC and one of the employee organizers of the event. "The employees started planning the event as a part of National Co-Op month celebration and now it has grown into a new and exciting project for all of us here at the REMC.”

The Dreaded Dungeon of Doom was named through an employee contest to identify the first annual event. Danette Scott, Engineering Administrative Assistant was the proud winner of the contest and will receive a “surprise gift package” for her creative suggestion.

The ‘friendly’ hours begin at 5:30 p.m. and the ‘frightening hours’ that inspire terror in all who venture forth will begin at 7:00 p.m. and continue until 9:30 p.m.

Treats will be handed out at the event and glow necklaces will be given to the first 100 attendees daring to enter the Dreaded Dungeon of Doom.
