Save Money...

Use Less Energy...

...with a Smart Thermostat

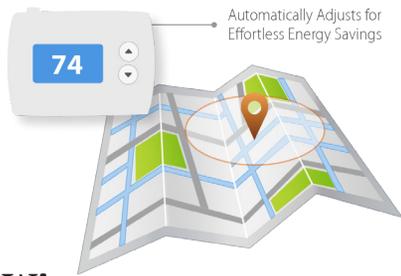

NEW!

Energy Assistant

What is Energy Management? With SCI REMC's Energy Management services (powered by Alarm.com) you can remotely adjust your lights and thermostats and set energy saving Smart Schedules to fit your lifestyle. SCI REMC can help you stop wasting energy and start taking control of your energy bills. When it comes to energy saving, Energy Management is the process of monitoring, controlling, and conserving energy. Energy Assistant combines knowledge about your home's occupancy, energy use, and electric utility incentives to further optimize energy savings and help you save money while staying comfortable.

NEW!

Location-Based Thermostat Automation

Use your phone's location to trigger automatic adjustments to your thermostat. For example, set your thermostat to automatically adjust to an energy saving temperature when you drive away from home, and adjust to a more comfortable setting when you leave for work.

Features

Extreme Temps

With Extreme Temps, your thermostat can automatically adjust itself when extremely hot or cold weather is forecasted in order to reduce energy costs and lessen the chance of widespread power outages.

Customize for your Lifestyle

With Alarm.com, you can customize your system to automatically change your thermostats based on your lifestyle automatically saving you money and energy.

Smart Schedules

Adjust and optimize your thermostat settings based on actual activity patterns throughout your home.

Remote Control

Access your thermostat and modify the temperature either online or through our free mobile app no matter where you are.

Home Automation

Automate your home with integrated lights and locks that can adjust to your schedule.

Severe Weather Alerts

Severe Weather Alerts notify you of approaching tornadoes and other potentially dangerous weather events in the immediate area.

Power Outage Notifications

Power outage notifications send real-time mobile alerts when a power outage occurs and also uses community intelligence to alert you to the percentage of nearby customers who have lost power as well.

It's All Connected

By integrating SCI REMC's Energy Management with SCI Security's home automation and security, the data captured through door, window and motion sensors provides information needed to enhance this all-in-one service.
